

Who we are:

Women's Leadership Today, a driving force for positive change, is committed to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion.

What we do:

We empower women to advance in their careers through targeted, professional development training and resources.

Overview

Women's Leadership Today is a professional development community designed under SuccessFuel's umbrella of brands. As such, you can expect the same professionalism, expert development, and in-depth learning opportunities that show clients the latest information and techniques they can use to improve their performance at work.

500

CONFLICT RESOLUTION: GETTING ALONG IN THE WORKPLACE

Conflict is a common occurrence in any workplace, making conflict resolution an essential competence for businesses. This comprehensive self-paced course equips participants with the necessary skills to effectively resolve conflicts, leading to enhanced performance and productivity. Through expert instruction, participants will learn the fundamentals of conflict resolution, understand how conflicts can escalate, identify different types and stages of conflict, master intervention strategies, and gain insights into commonly used resolution tactics.

Category: Human Resources
Read More